Depository Requirements

The University of Georgia Libraries was designated the official depository for Georgia government publications in 1993. As mandated by the Official Code of Georgia Annotated 20-5-2, state agencies and departments within the Georgia state government are required to submit five copies of all their publications, including print, videorecordings, CD-ROMs, and audio CD-ROMs to the following address:

Georgia Documents Depository Collection
Government Documents Department
University of Georgia Libraries
Athens, GA 30602-1645

Effective July 1, 2000 the Official Code of Georgia Annotated 20-5-2 was amended to require state agencies to submit an electronic copy if available in addition to print copies of all publications.

Submitting Electronic Documents

As mandated by the Official Code of Georgia Annotated 20-5-2, state agencies are required to submit documents produced in all formats, including electronic, to UGA Libraries, the official Georgia government publications depository.

In order to fulfill depository requirements, electronic documents may be submitted to UGA Libraries in the following formats: PDF, Word, or ASCII Text.

Please follow these procedures to submit electronic documents:

- To obtain a user ID and password for access to the ftp server send an e-mail to gadocs@uga.edu
- FTP documents to the following server during the hours of 7am-7pm: govdftp.galib.uga.edu
- After signing in with the user id and password obtained via the above e-mail address, set the transfer mode to BINARY and upload to the current directory.
- Send an e-mail to gadocs@uga.edu to notify the Digital Library of Georgia that a file has been sent. Include the file name(s), title of document, agency name, place of publication, and publication date.
- The Digital Library of Georgia will send an acknowledgement via email.
